Students requesting permission to take courses at other regionally accredited institutions, including StraighterLine, must not exceed the maximum credit hour load at Grambling State University. The total credit hours you take at both institutions may not exceed 18 credit hours per fall or spring semester and 6 credits hours per summer session. You must obtain permission to enroll in excessive hours by your academic department. If you enroll in courses that exceed the maximum credit hours allowed and permission was not granted prior to course enrollment, these courses will not be accepted by Grambling State University.

If you are a graduating senior, please request all transfer courses to be forwarded to Grambling State University –Office of the Registrar, P. O. Box 589, Grambling, LA 71245 at least two weeks prior to the deadline graduating seniors are certified.

Please attach transcript and curriculum sheet. List or highlight courses that have not been taken and courses that are being taken this semester.
