

Media Contact:
Debra Johnson
318-533-5337
mediarelations@gram.edu

MEDIA ADVISORY

GSU to Introduce New Athletic Director

Date: February 7, 2012
To: Media Outlets
From: Grambling State University – Office of Public Relations
Topic: Grambling State University Introduces New Athletic Director

What: Press conference will take place at Grambling State University Black and Gold Room. The university will announce and present Dr. Percy “Chico” Caldwell as the university’s new athletic director.

When: Wednesday, February 15, 2012
10:00 a.m.

Where: Grambling State University
Favrot Student Union - Black and Gold Room

Note: Photos may be down loaded from the following site:

###

About Grambling State University

Grambling State University, located in Grambling, Louisiana, is an Historically Black College and University founded in 1901. The University has been accredited by 13 accrediting associations and holds accreditations in all programs required by the Louisiana Board of Regents. The 433-acre campus offers 50 undergraduate and graduate degree programs, including the nation’s only doctoral program in Developmental Education. Grambling State University is a member of the University of Louisiana System.