

CALL ME MISTER.®

PREPARING ASPIRING EDUCATORS

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Less than 2% of teachers in the U.S. are Black Males. The Call Me Mister program strives to increase the pool of qualified teachers from a diverse background. Student participants are largely selected from among under-served, socio-economically disadvantaged and educationally at-risk communities.

FUNDING

- Scholarships
- Tuition assistance
- TEACH Grant
- Out-of-state fee waivers

SUPPORT

- Mentors
- Academic Coaches
- Praxis Prep
- Tutors

COMMUNITY

- Preferential Housing
- Professional Learning Communities
- Networking Opportunities
- Service-Learning and Leadership Training

"Call Me MiSTER offers the additional support and professional development that some may not get in regular teacher education programs. We live, study, and take classes together. This program is about so much more than being a black male teacher. With the potential of this program and support from people like Dr. Noflin, the sky is the limit."

- Mister Ja'Deric Talbert, Future Educator

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Dr. George Noflin | nofling@gram.edu

GRAM.EDU/CALLMEMISTER

GRAMBLING
STATE UNIVERSITY®